Class Prep

Coming to class without proper preparation is a recipe for failure.

Read any assignment or notes prior to class

Make a note of anything that does not make sense to you. If it still doesn't make sense after the topic has been covered – ASK, either in class or during office hours.

If your professor provides notes – print them out 4 or 6 to a page. Use these to highlight critical items and add your own notes to. You'll spend less time writing and more time listening.
